

peakpacific

ABOUT

Peak Pacific is a leading global eLearning and consultancy company. We have quickly grown to be a market leader in providing customers around the world quality products and solutions to meet their requirements. With an experienced management, consultancy, and production team from various business sectors and backgrounds, we are able to work with our customers to understand and find the right solution for any eLearning requirement.

With over 30 years of experience in Aviation Training and Learning & Development, Peak Pacific delivers high quality eLearning products and solutions from our Hong Kong, India, Singapore, UK, and European offices.

Administrative Support

Provide on-site and off-shore support services for content and LMS

Consulting

Study training environments, define needs, and provide solutions

Update & Maintenance

Post deployment content update training and support

Technology

Innovative technologies in learning and training to deliver truly transformational solutions

Delivery

Plan project delivery schedule around training and business needs

Content Redesign

Recommend a combination of ALTO© Academy content, Partner content, and custom-developed content that meet customer requirements

LMS / Exam Implementation

Configure, implement, test, and deploy LMS/Exam solutions

Partnership

Collaborate with business units to design solutions

PRODUCTS

Peak Pacific's flagship product, ALTO© Suite, is a competency / evidence-based training System developed over a number of years with input from major airlines and the wider pilot and training communities. Its analytical capabilities, adaptability, scalability, and affordability enables customers to automate processes, create efficient workflows, and identify gaps to improve the quality of future training.

electronic Training objects (eTo) is a next-generation simulator training Program Management System. All the elements of training are represented as training objects on eTo, enabling training managers to easily design, deploy, and update simulator training programs.

Peak Pacific recommends PeopleFluent Talent Suite as part of its Learning solution for the aviation industry. Depending on the training environment and the growth roadmap, Peak Pacific offers LMS solutions as a SaaS engagement model or 'Behind-the-Firewall' annual licensed implementation; among other innovative solutions. Packaged with the ALTO© Academy Online Content Library, the Talent Suite solution includes:

Mobile LMS | PeopleFluent eLearning | PeopleFluent Exams
PeopleFluent Learning | PeopleFluent Performance

SERVICES

With an intuitive and talented design team, Peak Pacific offers complex interactive designs for web-based and application-based learning.

Our SCORM-compliant courses are available in generic and aircraft-specific versions (AICC compliant versions are also available). Our services include:

Application Development | Content apps for mobile
Flash-HTML Content Conversion | VR/AR Solutions
HTML/CSS for iOS and Android | Mobile App Solutions
Rapid eLearning development for quick deployment

Contact us today to learn more about how Peak Pacific can help you rewire your business through learning, technology, and innovation.